Funding Request ($6805.04)

- EyeCandy Film Journal Vol. 26 Publication ($250)
  - EyeCandy Film Journal is an annually published, student-run media studies collection. Our aim is to focus on culturally relevant and compelling topics that expand our relationships with film, television and new media forms in hopes to motivate readers to engage with media in a more in-depth critical and complex fashion and act as a platform for the UCSC community to consider new and thoughtful perspectives on visual culture
  - Students can enroll in the FILM 185X - EyeCandy class to work on article submissions
  - Most of the journal is articles, with some visual art and other submissions
  - Planning to print 1,500 copies, which will cost ~$8,400
  - 26 Crown students, 2 active members

- Red Wheelbarrow Anthology ($300)
  - Red Wheelbarrow aims to provide a wide reaching platform for UCSC undergraduates to publish and disperse their work. Each edition showcases the diverse perspectives of students across campus connecting students who otherwise may never interact or challenge one another
  - Submissions are open to anyone; deadline is January 25th
- Printing 1,000 copies will cost $6,200
- Crown and Merrill’s First Annual Professional Development Conference ($150)
  - The intention for this conference is to have it be an outlet for students to gain more knowledge on how to develop some professional skills in order to be ready for the ‘real’ world. My hope is to have speakers who can talk about their experience in developing professionally and what steps they have taken to get where they are today. I would like students to be inspired by UCSC faculty and gain a better idea of how they can reach their dreams
  - Saturday, January 23rd 9:30 am - 3:00 pm @ Cultural Center at Merrill
  - Career Center workshops often conflict with students’ schedules so this conference provides a time for students to do these workshops
  - $150 for food and “swag” (e.g. lanyards) at the conference
  - Featuring speakers like Cynthia Chase, Brian Arao, Alex Belisario

Old Business
- Unanimous Consent/Acclamation
  - Acclamation is called by the chair for trivial things that they believe would be agreed upon by the whole group
  - Senate bylaws will need to be edited by the end of the year
